MEMPHIS APPEAL.

IMPEACHMENT—THE CURST WITCH MYCORAX AND HER BLOOD.

After the bloody massacres of September, 1792, by the racaille of Paris, the petition of "the Society of the Defenders of the Republic, sitting at the Jacobins, in the Street Saint-Honore, read by a member of the Society at a session of the National Convention on the 8th of February, 1793, urged this consideration in support of its prayer for the pardon and release of the assassins."

Speaking of the "events" of September, it said:

"If morality censures them, policy justifies them; and so it will always be when the people, which in its just vengeance may err, is opposed instead of being sustained; and, as one of your members, Isnard, has said, 'Popular vengeances are a supplement of the silence of the laws.' . . . We ought to obey the law, undoubtedly; but if the law is vicious, we have a right to protest against it, and to invoke the supreme law, the welfare of the people."

Chabot said, "In a revolution, men do not at first know where to halt; and when one commences, every one has reason to fear that his head may come to the block."

When, on the 9th of March, 1793, the National Convention decreed the establishment of "an extraordinary criminal Tribunal," the prototype of American Military Commissions to hang women, "for the purpose of trying, without appeal or recourse to the Tribunal of Cassation, conspirators and counter-revolutionists," when Cambaceres declared that to save the republic active and general means were necessary; and said to the Convention, "All the powers of government have been entrusted to you; you ought to exercise them all; there should be no separation between the body that deliberates and that which causes execution of its decrees. We are not now to be governed by ordinary principles;"—when Buzot declared that the purpose of the measure was "to constitute a despotism more frightful than that of anarchy;" claimed the right to save his own memory from dishonour, by voting against the despotism of the National Convention; and said that any power which concentrated in itself all powers, and could be restrained by none, was by that very fact despotic; and when Vergniaud said, "When it is proposed to you to decree the establishment of an Inquisition a thousand times more to be dreaded than that of Venice, we will all die rather than consent to it;"—Amar said, "This measure alone can save the people; otherwise it must rise and its enemies fall by its hands;" Duhem said, "Bad as the Tribunal may be, it is still too good for the assassins of the country;" and Danton said that extraordinary laws were necessary, to alarm the rebellious and reach the guilty. "Here," he said, "the safety of the people demands great means and terrible measures."

The end was, that after the establishment of the Revolutionary Tribunal, Danton, on the 27th of March, declared that the National Convention must become a revolutionary body, and declare implacable war against domestic enemies. He proposed to decree that whenever the counter-revolution was manifested, whoever should be audacious enough to encourage it, should be outlawed; and he said, "Whoever shall dare to attempt the destruction of liberty shall die by my hand, if it bring my head to the scaffold."

And this decree was voted: "The National Convention declares that it is firmly resolved to have neither peace nor truce with aristocrats and enemies of the Revolution. It decrees that they are outlawed."

Under the guidance of the chiefs of the Jacobins, the United States are marching on the same road which France traveled in 1792 and 1793. It is nonsense to say that free government cannot be overthrown here, and the government of a single will substituted for it. The people are fonder of license than of liberty, and their Republican instincts are rapidly dying out. The Jacobins, who cast an immense vote, are willing to invest Congress or the House of Representatives alone, with all the powers of the French National Convention. They see without impatience or concern, or any other feeling except that of approval, the Executive and Judiciary put under the feet of Congress, and are willing to trust General Grant with all the powers of a Dictator. The white men of ten States are outlawed. When the decree of outlawry, of 1793, was adopted, its intention was declared to be that the ordinary forms of law should not be followed in trying counter-revolutionists, outlawed by it, and not that any one who pleased might put them to death. In those ten States, the people have no protection of the laws. They may be arrested and imprisoned at the will of the Military Commanders, tried by Military Commissions, and deported to the Dry Tortugas in chains. The law does indeed forbid the General in command to put them to death; but if he chooses to disobey it, and to execute men even without any trial, there is no Court of justice that has the power to save their lives.

The suspension of the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus is despotism, and every Military Commission a revolutionary Tribunal. What was there in the dark days of France, when the guillotines daily streamed with blood, more frightful than the trial and unjust judgment of Mrs. Surratt, than the refusal of the President to permit a writ of Habeas Corpus to be executed, and the murder to be delayed until a Court of the United States which issued the writ, could examine and decide whether she had been lawfully convicted and could lawfully be executed?

What is the Board of Managers but a revolutionary Tribunal or Committee of Public Safety? True, it does not fling its victims out at the door of the Committee room, to be cut to pieces by its executioners, but it incarcerates men in the Capitol, for refusing to answer questions which it has no right to ask; it opens private letters and uses against the writers those stolen by its spies; and it seizes all the telegraphic dispatches of a day, by whomsoever sent from Washington; and plays the two parts of an Inquisition and a Star-chamber, trying and condemning Senators in their absence, and on exparte testimony and strained conclusions publishing them to the world as criminals. It thus violates that provision of the Constitution which protects citizens against unlawful searches and seizures, and claims and exercises powers which no people fit to be free ever conceded to their rulers.

These things flow from the impeachment trial. They are its natural sequences. The snarling and savage denunciations against those Republican Senators who had the courage to obey their convictions and vote for acquittal, remind one of the cry of Marat to the mob of Paris: "A single reflection overwhelms me: It is that all my efforts to save the people will end only in a new insurrection. Seeing the temper of most of the deputies in the National Convention, I despair of the public safety." The denunciations launched against these Senators are incitations to their assassination, which, indeed, is already prophesied and threatened.

How far do the utterances which we have quoted fall short in violence and atrocity of the worst of those of the rascally actors in the French Revolution? Sumner proposes to declare that impeachment is a political measure, and the trial thereupon a political trial, and that the Senators are responsible to the people for their votes, as to the guilt or innocence of the accused. The doctrine is abominable and horrible, worthy of the deformed intellect of that moral Caliban. It would be infinitely better to say, with only the variations necessary to suit the case, what Danton, who was executed in 1794, by the connivance of the more cunning scoundrel Robespierre, said of the trial of Louis XVI: "The death of the King is a political necessity. We have no right to be his judges, it is true; well, we will kill him."

"There are periods in revolutions," said Robespierre, "when to live is a crime." Is it not already deemed by American Jacobinism a crime in Fessenden, Trumbull, Grimes and Ross, to live; and how long will it be before such men as these, crushed in the idle attempt to stay the progress of the Revolution, will have cause to say, in the last words of Danton: "My object was to prevent a new Septembre and not let loose a scourge upon mankind. Those Cains knew nothing about government. I leave everything in frightful disorder."

There never was a trial, attainder, prosecution or proceeding in the world, that struck so foul a blow and with such fatal effect, at great principles hallowed and sanctified by time, and approved by the general judgment of men as essential, not only to the maintainance of private rights and public liberty, but to the very existence of virtue and integrity in public men, as the trial of Andrew Johnson. Subornation of perjury is a dangerous and hateful crime, which the law punishes severely and for it stamps indelible dishonour on the character of the malefactor. In what respect is it a less hateful crime, in what respect is it not a more dangerous one, to endeavour, by cajolery and threats and sinister influences of every kind, to induce Senators, sitting as Judges and sworn to render impartial decisions, to convict the accused whom they believe to be not guilty, and whom their oaths and consciences command them to acquit?

Is it surprising that when the very foundations on which the peace and good order of society rest and the bases of government among men are planted, are thus rudely shaken and disturbed, and laws void and null because unconstitutional are claimed to be permanently obligatory, and to be obeyed without question; when it is savagely demanded that Senators shall stab the prostrate body of JUSTICE, as it lies on the altar of faction in the centre of the Senate, Committees of the House of Representatives should exercise arbitrary power, and disregard private rights?

Yet the People sleep on. If they hear, they do not heed, when the Press asks, in the words of the Intelligencer:

What is Butler in his present quality and labor with some of his associate Alta Vela conspirators, but a rapacious rover or violator of men's rights and property? What right have they to pry out by letters and telegrams, and other private papers, all the affairs of men and women in their business, and in a thousand other things more dear than money, and often dearer than life? Where will this usurpation end? How long is it before the guano impeachers or some other form of Congress directory may assume a seat of power, and issue decrees, as if they were the executors of law, all else to the contrary notwithstanding? The acts of rulers of Europe, in whatever form short of autocratic rescripts, would not dare to call for what is being done in our midst by the guano impeachers.

Or when it says, in words that once would have shook the country to its centre:

Referring to the transactions in question, which are, in fact, arbitrary seizures of private papers and searches for matter for charges against citizens, there was nothing in the period of terrible civil war, with suspension of the habeas corpus, that approximated the pious Butler's villainy. It is now a time of peace. The writ of habeas corpus is not suspended. We are under the ægis of the Constitution. In the shade of the Capitol, the symbol of the nation's power. From it flies the national ensign. Now, if the guano impeachers, thus surrounded by the grand evidences of activity in the land, can seize all that telegraphic correspondence of a day, to investigate as to the verity of a charge of corruption upon a single member of Congress, when Mr. Washburne, the mouthpiece and conscience-keeper of Gen. Grant, has made, with perfect impunity and audacity, the charge of venality against nearly the whole body, why may not the offenders in question seize all such correspondence for all the past winter, or for any and all past time, that they may lay their hands upon? Why not go into private houses and do likewise? Why not go to the postoffice here, and to the postoffices of the country, and examine them through their creatures of the military or the Freedmen's Bureau, or the standing army of postal office-holders themselves? Why not thus examine all letters in such offices, or those that shall come there for a time named.

It has always been the single victims of power and despotism, whose deaths by the axe or cord have brought revolutions in Empires and freedom to the peoples on whose masses the wrath of tyranny never fell. Nero murdered Seneca and Germanicus, but he gave the Roman populace 'bread and the games.' Resistance to tyrants and usurpation always begin with individuals,—with the Hampdens and the Luthers: and the people, seeing the liberties of every man among them involved in the contest, make the cause of these men their own. The unlawful arrest and imprisonment of a single man in a Republic cuts every freeman to the bone, like the scourge of a Russian Executioner.

Is it not enough to startle all men, that a Committee of one House of a Legislature, in the words of the Intelligencer, brings before it by summary process whomsoever any one of its members pleases, subjects these witnesses to an inquisition absolutely forbidden by the fundamental law of the nation, incarcerates them for pleading their constitutional rights, and converts the Nation's Capitol into a prison-house for the victims of the partisan malignity or personal hatred or caprice of any of its members?

General Grant also engaged in the crusade against the President. This his friends at last openly declared. There is no mistake on this subject, because the Editor of the Washington Chronicle, John W. Forney, while at Chicago as a Delegate to the Convention, wrote thus to his journal:

At a meeting of the Illinois delegation, this afternoon, the Hon. N. B. Judd, of the House of Representatives, from this district, was called on for a speech. In the course of his remarks he stated that Gen. Grant, pending the impeachment trial, obtained an interview with Senator Trumbull, during which he (Grant) told Trumbull that if Johnson was acquitted he (Grant) could not remain in Washington, as he would be ordered away without delay.

Gen. Logan was also called on, and indorsed Mr. Judd's statements. He added a most unqualified indorsement of Grant's Radicalism.

How long a stride will it take to reach the point when the House of Representatives, like the House of Commons' 'dispensing' with the Lords, will turn the Senate out of doors, declare its own sitting permanent, and place all the power of the country in the hands of General Grant as its instrument? It is but a little way to go, and little worse than what has already been done.

Movements of the Celestial Embassadors.

The representatives of the Celestial Empire are becoming more and more attractive every day. In and about the Metropolitan Hotel, yesterday, many anxious eyes were on the qui vive for the children of the Kingdom of Flowers in Asia, and whenever a queue made its appearance on the stairs, leading to their apartments, or in the bar-room, the wearer of it instantly became the subject of prying eyes and the "observed of all observers."

We fear that if their stay among us is protracted long, it may be necessary for the disciples of Father Matthew to ask them to "sign the pledge." In fact, Mr. Ah Chinaman will be as "fast" as the finest specimen of Young America that can be started. Some of the elder ones of the servants have learned the way to the bar-room, and come down regularly for their "bitters" of a morning. One old gentleman came down yesterday morning and called for his "brandy straight," and slipped down a Chinese brass cent as pay for the seventy five cent drink, and walked out with the air of a prince, and as having paid a big price for it! But the brass coins are in demand about the hotel, and Capt. Shelley can, if he chooses to, sell them, and obtain more for them than the articles he gives in exchange or trade for them.

They are beginning to have quite a penchant for mint juleps. Capt. Oliver took two of them behind the bar to show them the process of concocting them. A sherry cobbler was presented to the older one, and he drank it like a veteran. The younger one was quite modest about touching it; when asked to "smile" he shook his head, made gesticulations with his hands to be excused, very good humoredly, but finally was prevailed on to swallow a little for his stomach's sake, when he smiled all over at its effects and palatability.

It is amusing to witness the "tea brigade" come down every morning at 5 o'clock with their saucepans full of hot water to make their own tea, all in a line, single file.

One of the most important and noteworthy features in the history of China and this country transpired yesterday, it being the raising over the hotel the flag of the Empire of China at half-mast out of respect to the honor paid to the memory of ex-President Buchanan. It is the first Chinese Embassy flag raised in our country, and the one hoisted was made expressly for His Excellency, Anson Burlingame.—Nat. Int., 6th.

TUESDAY evening Sheriff Bagg returned with three of the prisoners who broke out of the county jail last week. He met up with several of them near the Saline river, and a skirmish ensued. Several shots were fired, when the prisoners scattered into the woods, and he eluded capture but the three mentioned, who are negroes. It is believed that the white man who escaped with them from jail was killed; if so, a just retribution has overtaken him, for on his soul rests the blood of several persons whom he murdered.—Pine Bluff Vindicator, 4th.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

TENNESSEE.

—We learn from the Pulaski Citizen that the house of Mr. Wilkinson, in that city, was struck by lightning last Tuesday night.

—Speaking of the meeting held in Lebanon last Monday to appoint delegates to the State Convention, the Herald remarks: "Take it all in all, it was a most pleasant and enthusiastic meeting. The old fire and enthusiasm of 1840 and '44, was kindled in the bosoms of all present. It argues well for the country."

—The same paper says that the storm on Monday night did considerable damage to the trees and fences in that vicinity. We learn also that it completely demolished a church at Chestnut Mound, not leaving a vestige of it standing, and twisted the largest trees off like pipestems. The wheat, we understand, was not seriously damaged.

—We learn from the Pulaski Citizen that the meeting held in that city on the 9th inst., to appoint delegates to the State Convention, was composed of the very best men of the county, some of whom have always been staunch Union men, some Union soldiers, and others having espoused the cause of their section in the late war—all now united upon the great question, "Shall we co-operate with the great Democratic party of the North, who are endeavoring to free us from worse than African slavery?"

—Cayuga Chief, the Black Hawk trotting stallion, says the Nashville Banner of the 9th, owned by Capt. G. W. and Horace H. Hamner, died yesterday morning from a kick received over the region of the heart. This noble animal was extensively known throughout this section of the State, and his death will be regretted by all lovers of the turf.

—The venerable Bishop Andrew preached at the Methodist Church in Jackson last Sabbath. After he had concluded, two prominent citizens of Jackson, and a gentleman who was on a visit to that city, approached the altar and humbly kneeled, asking the forgiveness of their sins.

—Correspondents of the Lebanon Herald at Bigbyville, Carter's Creek, and in the southern section of the county, report that there will be a heavy yield of wheat; that corn is backward, but looking well, and that cotton is rather "sick."

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Hunnicutt has been acquitted. John Brown was hung.

—Colfax is not a printer, and never was. He was a Know-Nothing.

—Wendell Phillips attacks Freemasonry in connection with the result of impeachment.

—Colorado offers husbands to a thousand girls this spring if they will come and get them.

—An Indiana Radical says that Colfax was nominated instead of Wade because the Convention did not want to "make the tail of the ticket a d—d sight bigger than the head."

—An entertainment was given at the Metairie Race Course, New Orleans, for the benefit of Lieut. Brain, the last Confederate prisoner. A mile race was to take place, in which eleven mules were to figure.

—A naturalized cockney recently settled in Georgia thus paraphrases the famous saying of Gov. Troupe, of that State: "The h'argument is h'exhausted, we must stand by our h'arms."

—As an offset to the two-horse omnibus the one-horse "minibus" has been introduced in New York. It is a Scotch cab or "shay," comfortably carrying six persons, and having the driver's box separate from the body on the springs of the front wheels.

—Philadelphia proposes to reduce the fare upon the street cars. The Cincinnati Common Council reduced the rates in that city to five cents. Won't the Memphis City Railroad do likewise?

—A Southampton county, Va., man has sold the strawberry produce of ten acres, in advance, for $10,000, the buyer furnishing the boxes.

—Paris, from having been the cheapest, has become the dearest city in the world to live in. Water there is paid for by the gallon and wood is purchased by the pound.

—Brevet Brig-Gen. Miller, having declined to contribute toward the decoration of the soldiers' graves in and near Washington, unless the graves of the Confederate dead were also honored, his views are a marvel to Forney, who is astonished "that any officer of the United States army who desires to retain his commission should venture to express them," which is the strictly "loil" idea of the matter.

—There is about three millions of dollars due the city of New Orleans for arrear taxes, the collection of which has been postponed till 1870. Tax-payers could now buy three millions of city money at thirty-three per cent discount and pay their taxes, thus realizing one million between this and 1870, besides relieving the city of its indebtedness.

—The ice made by the Louisiana Ice Manufacturing Company, of New Orleans, is preferred by the confectioners. For making ice cream it is said it will go nearly twice as far as Northern ice, perhaps because it is more uniformly porous, and the salt, closing up the pores, prevents it from melting. The barrooms, on the other hand, prefer Northern ice, as it looks more clear, and does not, perhaps melt as quickly in water as the Louisiana ice.

—Wanted—Situation—By Tite Barnacle, Esq, late Secretary of the United States Senate. Light work preferred, with plenty of perquisites and no perspiration. Served several years in last place, and accounts positively only $40,000 short. Refer to Edwin Forrest, the late James Buchanan, the High Court of Impeachment and the greatest Criminal of the Age.

—Maj. Giles M. Hillyer, in a graceful and feeling valedictory in the Natchez Courier of a late date, severed his connection with that paper. For more than eighteen years he has been prominent as a Mississippi journalist, and the press of the State will regret that he has left the field where he did so constant and noble service. We wish him all success and prosperity wherever he goes, and in whatever profession or pursuit he may embark.

Night Dispatches.

BOSTON.

BOSTON, June 10.—The Democrats of New Hampshire held their Convention yesterday and elected District Delegates to the National Convention. No preference for candidates was expressed, but the general feeling seemed to be for Chase or Hancock and decidedly against Pendleton.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, June 10.—Messrs. Stewart, of Mobile, and S. R. Shryock, of St. Louis, made strong addresses to-day before the Board of Trade, in favor of opening Bayou Manchac. Resolutions were adopted heartily indorsing the measure and thanking the delegation present for their efforts in behalf of commerce.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, June 10.—The river is falling, with six feet in the canal. The weather is clear and pleasant.

Departed—John Kilgour, for New Orleans, and Linda Newell for Vicksburg.

EVANSVILLE, June 10.—The river has fallen eight inches.

The Dexter passed up for Louisville.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The river is in good order above and below.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—Further advices from the upper Missouri state that the Indian hostilities along the river continue; steamboats had been fired into, stock run off, and several whites killed. Gen. Terry was at Fort Rice on the 3d inst., and Father Dismet had gone out to induce, if possible, the Indians to come in and make peace. They are reported as saying that they don't want peace, for then they starve; but when at war they get what they want from the whites; but they do want more ammunition.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Deficiency bill, in which was included the deficiencies for Customhouse officials, having passed both Houses and received the signature of the President, the Treasury Department to-day mailed drafts to the different Collectors of Customs to satisfy the demand for the salaries of the officials belonging to that service.

It is understood that the President has written a letter to Hon. Wm. S. Groesbeck, of Ohio, tendering him the office of Secretary of the Treasury, and the same is being held by him under advisement, although it is believed in certain well-informed circles that the announcement will be accepted.

Gen. Rousseau has been granted permission, by the War Department, to delay six weeks in joining his command in the Department of Columbia.

Gen. Hancock and staff called on the Chinese Embassy this morning.

Secretary Schofield is engaged in closing up the accumulated business of the War Department.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The World says that Cooper Institute has been secured for the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention of July 4th, and among the distinguished soldiers who will be present are Maj.-Gens. Franklin, Blair, Granger, Ewing and Hancock.

By the falling of a scaffold on Front street to-day, two men were killed and another seriously injured.

Crabtree, Lotta's father, was brought before the Superior Court to-day on a writ of habeas corpus. The Judge decided that the affidavits showed sufficient cause for his detention.

At the Jerome Park races, the first race for the Fordham stakes, mile and a quarter, free for all, was won by Stonewall Jackson, beating Gen. McMahon, Clement and five others. Time—2:16¼.

The second race for the Belmont stake, one mile and five furlongs, for three year olds, was won by Gen. Duke, beating Northumberland and four others. Time, 3:02.

The third race for the Hopeful stakes, five furlongs, for two year olds, was won by Bonnie Lass, beating a field of seven. Time—1:06¾.

The Democratic State Convention adopted resolutions maintaining that the people are the sovereign power, and that all the powers have not been delegated to the general Government which have been usurped by Congress, and regard its reconstruction acts a military despotism, and the Freedmen's Bureau as a wanton violation of the rights of the States. That the Republican party has repudiated the Constitution and cannot be trusted in any of its present or future promises. Regard slavery as dead, and the declaration that the Democratic party desire to restore it as a wicked invention. Denounce impeachment and commend the conscientious scruples of the seven Republican Senators who voted against it. Acknowledge the services of the soldiers and sailors. Believe that while the Democracy of New York would be proud of the recognition of the services of one of their own citizens by the National Convention, that all personal and local considerations should be yielded in order to achieve success and save the country from tyranny and misrule.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—At noon today Mr. Conway, the newly elected Mayor, presented himself at the City Hall and handed Mayor Heath a copy of Gen. Buchanan's order announcing the former's election to the office of Mayor. Mr. Heath replied that he knew of no law authorizing the election in question, and furthermore he did not acknowledge the authority of Gen. Buchanan to issue said order. Mr. Conway replied that he had called in obedience to the order to assume the duties of the office of Mayor, and if he (Heath) did not acknowledge its authority, he should be under the necessity of reporting the fact to Gen. Buchanan. Mr. Heath replied, "I decline to give up the office." Mr. Conway then proceeded to headquarters, and at 2:30 p.m. returned, accompanied by Capt. DeRussey, of Gen. Buchanan's staff, and informed Mr. Heath that he had come to execute the order, which he presented, directed to Capt. DeRussey, and signed by the Adjutant-General, directing him to proceed to the City Hall and install Mr. Conway. Mr. Heath replied that he had been duly appointed Mayor of New Orleans, and his appointment had been confirmed by Congress, and that he knew of no election which was legal, of a successor to fill his place, and he therefore did not recognize the authority of Gen. Buchanan to remove him. Capt. DeRussey then retired, and procuring a squad of police, placed Mr. Heath under arrest and ordered him to deliver the keys and books of the office to Mr. Conway. Mr. Heath refused to comply without a written order, which was given him. Mr. Conway then took charge of the office, and announced as his secretary John W. Overall. While writing the orders mentioned above, Judge Whittaker informed Capt. De Russey that a writ quo warranto had been issued by Judge Du Plaintier, of the Sixth District Court, upon Mr. Conway. Capt. De Russey replied that Mr. Conway was now installed, and the writ would take its proper course, but could not interfere with the duties he was then discharging. Mr. Heath having turned over the books and papers, was then released upon parole. Before sending Capt. De Russey to install Mr. Conway, Gen. Buchanan sent a communication to Mr. Heath desiring his presence at headquarters. Heath replied that he was officially engaged, but would call at the earliest opportunity compatible with his official duties.

Heath to-day received a letter containing the single word, "stick," purporting to have been signed by five thousand Radicals. Considerable excitement prevails throughout the city, and a strong body of police are stationed at the City hall.

Becker and Massicut, Recorders elect from the First and Third Districts have qualified. The incumbent of the Recorder's office of the Third District refuses to give up the office, as it might prejudice the contest of the election in which he is now engaged.

MEXICO.

GALVESTON, June 10.—The Herald's correspondent furnishes the following from Brownsville the 7th inst: By a circular order of Juarez to Gen. Soldons, of Tamaulipas, Juan Jose de la Garcia is declared to be the constitutional Governor of that State, and is ordered to take his seat immediately.

Soldons had convened the Legislature and that body issued a decree on the 5th, calling for Garcia's installment on the 1st of August next.

Soldons says that in the meantime the Guerra party will have secured arms, men and supplies, to prevent the installation of Garcia.

The national troops at Matamoros are for Guerra, hence a civil war is at hand.

Six hundred bandits fell on Saltillo on the 4th, capturing and murdering the City Council and all the Liberal soldiers on duty.

Santa Anna's Brownsville agent has purchased 400 horses, equipments and rifles, and on a signal from the Nigrete or Ortega party, it is said they will move on Monterey.

Judge Velosco, of Matamoros, declared in a charge, on the 5th inst., in the case of Dr. Hutchinson, an American Tuxpan colonist, that "the Mexican authorities ought to pauperize all Americans who come to Mexico."

At Brownsville, on the 6th, a desperate attempt was made to release a desperado named John Price from the military prison.

The Santa Anna filibusters will strike Bagdad by the 14th inst., and are fully prepared to take the place. They wish to act before the return of Gen. McCook, who is now at Corpus Christi. There is great excitement in consequence at Brownsville and Matamoros. Many Americans are joining the Santa Anna movement.

There is the utmost corruption, fraud and disorder in the Brownsville Custom House, which has been inaugurated by Whaley, the new Collector. There has been no Custom receipts for six days, but immense operations in smuggling. Whaley is kept in a constant state of intoxication by the smuggling ring.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The bill for amending the act for carrying the mails between the United States and foreign ports, and which rescinds the prepayment of the postage on letters or newspapers between the States and Territories west of Kansas, except when sent from the publication offices, was passed after some debate.

Wilson introduced a bill for the organization, government and payment of the army. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Morrill, of Maine, from the Conference Committe on the Navy Appropriation bill, made a report recommending a concurrence in the provision that the civil engineers and storekeepers of the several navy yards be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; and that the masters mechanics be appointed by the heads of departments from civil life, not from the navy. The committee also recommend other important amendments. The report was concurred in.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the special order being the bill to admit North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama to representation in Congress, it was taken up.

The question was on the amendment of Sherman to strike out the additional fundamental conditions imposed on Georgia of striking from her Constitution the provisions preventing the enforcement of contracts made prior to June, 1865.

Williams spoke in favor of the amendment, and Conkling followed, arguing that this clause of the Georgia Constitution was unconstitutional and void.

HOUSE.

Moorhead reported, by authority of the Committee on Ways and Means, a bill prepared by the sub Committee thereof, to increase the revenue from the duties on imports, which was ordered to be printed.

Paine, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to-day to relieve from political disabilities Wm. M. Harrison and James R. Bowyer, of Arkansas. The former is Justice elect of the Supreme Court and the latter Auditor of State.

Various questions were put to Paine by Miller, Williams, Maynard and others, as to the past political status of these men.

Paine replied generally, saying that though the men in question had been implicated in the rebellion, they were now true and loyal, and so endorsed by the delegation to Congress, from Arkansas. The bill was passed by a two-thirds vote.

The bill authorizing the Post Master General to contract with an American steamship company to carry the mails to Europe was passed.

Eldridge asked Elliott to yield the floor to him that he might offer a resolution instructing the Committee of Managers to examine the witness Woolley immediately, so that if he answer the questions for which he was adjudged in contempt, he may not longer be deprived of his liberty as a citizen.

Elliott declined to do so, but subsequently Butler said, "I desire to say for the information of the gentleman on the other side, that a meeting of the Committee of Managers is called for to-morrow morning, at which time Mr. Woolley shall be examined."

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the tax bill.

Hume supported the petition and Morton opposed it.

After some further discussion the vote was taken on the amendment and it was rejected by 8 to 34—Cameron, Terry, Hume, Pomeroy, Sherman, Thayer Williams and Wilson voting aye.

Trumbull offered some verbal amendments, which were agreed to.

Williams moved to amend the third section by inserting the following: "And thereupon the officials of each State duly elected and qualified under the Constitution shall be inaugurated without delay, but no person prohibited from holding office under the United States, or by any State, by section 3 of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States known as article 14, shall be deemed eligible to any office in either of said States, which was agreed to by 26 to 15.

Drake moved to amend it by striking out the provision forbidding any future abridgment of the elective franchise, and inserting the corresponding provision of the Arkansas bill.

The substitute of the Judiciary Committee was then adopted, as amended, and the question being on the bill, as amended, Trumbull moved to strike out the word Alabama.

THE CROPS.

The Lexington, Miss., Advertiser, says that between Lexington and West's station the corn crop was never more promising. Cotton looked dull and uncertain and very backward for the time of year. There is much grass and the planters will have heavy work to keep it under. The crops are the same in Atalla county.

The Vicksburg Herald says the crops are of a character to gladden the heart of the toiling farmer. Corn is fully grown and tasselling finely, but is greatly in need of rain just at this time. Cotton is thriving wonderfully under the hot and cloudless skies, and is fully a month farther advanced than at this time last year. Should this part of the country be blessed with a good rain, it is almost certain that such crops will be made, as have not been garnered in the South since the war.

WE learn that the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, and the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, (leased by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad), have already paid in their July interest. This promptness is very gratifying.

—A gentleman in New York recently advertised for a wife, and received letters from twenty-seven husbands saying he could have theirs.

—Fifteen years ago a man left Gardiner, Me., to try his fortunes in Chicago. He had $800, which he invested in buying house lots about a mile from the center of the then city. To-day that same property would sell at auction for $256,000. The spare change he got from practicing law he put into house lots and then into a banking house, and now pays a tax on $3,000,000.

—It is said that among two million of people by whom Yeddo, in Japan, is inhabited, there is not a beggar in the streets, not a drunkard, not a ruffian. The woman are beautiful, the men robust and energetic, there is no trouble about fashions, education is universal, books are plentiful—though there are no newspapers; life is simple and easy, marriage is universal, and children go naked.

MARRIED.

WILLIAMS—BATTERTON—On the afternoon of June 10th, by Rev. Wm. Patterson at the residence of Col. H. D. Williams, the bride's father, Miss HARRIET D. WILLIAMS and Mr. GEORGE D. BATTERTON, of Danville, Ky.

The Great General Restorative

ONLY needs to be mentioned, to receive the approving voice of every user—now the most popular among all invigorators. It is better than a brandy toddy. So you have ten gallons in one bottle, of that which will make you young, rosy and fair, keep your system above all tendencies to disease, as well as overcome the worst diseases of the country. It should be in every house, and taken every day by every one in the family, at this season of the year. Then fevers would be scarce in Memphis.

Can be had at all first-class druggists.

ANOTHER MURDER.

A Well Known Negro Shot Dead.

His Body Brought to Town.

A negro named Fayette was killed yesterday by aman named Hottendorf, under the following circumstances, as detailed to us by especial Constable Robinson:

Fayette lived near the State line, on the Pigeon Roost road, and had been working with Hottendorf. Some quarrel had occurred between them. Hottendorf went to Fayette's house early yesterday morning, and called for him to come out. Fayette did not hear him when first he called, and so did not come. Hottendorf then went home and armed himself with a double-barreled shot-gun and came back, again called Fayette out, and as he came out of the house, shot the two loads into him, killing him almost instantly. He then slung his gun on his shoulder and walked toward his own house whistling, and on being asked by Constable Robinson, who had neard the noise and was coming towards the house, what the fuss was about, remarked that Fayette's wife "had got religion." He took Hottendorf into custody and brought him, along with the body of Fayette, into the city. An examination into the affair will be had to day.

A CARD.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

In your issue of yesterday under the caption of "The Tournament," you make use of the following remarks:

A liberal feeling seems to be exercised by all towards the success of the enterprise, except the Memphis Association Course. The cause for which this tournament was inaugurated would not appear to have any claims upon the President of the Association referred to, as the terms upon which he proposed to allow the use of the Race Grounds were out of all reason, and could not for a moment be entertained by the managers.

In this I feel you have done me a very great injustice. I will briefly state the facts: For the past few weeks the grounds of the Memphis Association Course has been used by the gentlemen practicing for the Tournament, and an advertisement published, that the same would come off on the 17th of this month. I was much surprised at this proceeding, as the right to the grounds had not been secured. Fearing some misunderstanding, and desiring to have the matter settled before any expense would be incurred, by putting up buildings, I on last Monday stated these facts to W. H. Passmore, one of the managers, requesting he would see the Committee on Grounds. On the same day, Messrs. Stewart and Wilkerson called on me and asked what the charge would be for the use of the course. I stated that $500 had been paid last year, but I would reduce it $100, making it $400. The gentlemen thought this too much, but finally agreed to accept those terms. I then required an order on the Treasurer for the amount. Dr. Wilkerson declined to give this, as it would hold him responsible. I then stated I would cheerfully give the grounds free of charge for the laudable object of the Tournament, were it not for the fact that the Association was largely in debt, and not in a condition to be liberal. Mr. Stewart then stated he would accept the terms, and would call next day. He has not done so, and I was not aware of the bargain being broken until I read your paper. The charges made for the use of the ground were not exorbitant. You charge that the object for which the Tournament is to be given, would appear to have no claims upon me. This is not true. I regret to speak of myself in this connection, and would not were it not for your misrepresentation. I claim I have contributed as liberally to all public and charitable objects, according to my means, as any citizen in this city. The object of the Tournament meets my cordial approval. I will give $200 towards paying the charge of the Memphis Association Course, if responsible gentlemen will pledge themselves that all of the net receipts will be given to the widows and orphans.

Very respectfully,
JOHN DONOVAN,
President M. A. Course.

—Johnny McNally fell from a scaffolding three stories high, yesterday afternoon, and dropped into a mortar-bed. Instead of being killed, as every one who saw him fall, expected, he got up and walked over to Esquire Griffith's and asked to be sent to the Hospital. The 'Squire sent him to the "Court Recess" instead.

—Laura Barefoot had one Amos Phillips arrested and carried before 'Squire Walton, charged with larupping her. Amos, as a countercharge, had Laura arrested and charged her with stealing and being "scrumptious." On being asked to explain the latter word, he said it meant "trying to fight him." Both were bound in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for six months.

—Dr. Bateman, of Chelsea, while at dinner yesterday, had his house entered and all of his shoes, boots and slippers stolen, leaving the doctor completely barefoot.

—There were eight arrests up to 6 o'clock at Causey street station. None of them on serious charges.

—James Levin, a mackerel, was arrested for robbing the till of M. S. Galy, on Beale street. There were three youths engaged in the robbing, but the two accomplices escaped. Levin was carried before 'Squire Elliott, who sent him up in default of $500 bond.

—George Bond could not give bonds yesterday for having a lot of hides, stolen by him from Phillips & Co. He was sent to the Criminal Court.

—The premises of Mr. Howard, No. 468 Shelby street, were yesterday broken into and two bee hives stolen.

—Sol Fenner, the negro who killed Lloyd Brown on Monday, was yesterday arrested and lodged in the First District police station. Sol ought to be hung if ever a murderer deserved hanging.

—John Keely was jugged by the Second District police for stealing a wheelbarrow. He will be examined today.

—Bob Richardson walloped his wife, and the madam had him arrested therefor.

—Officer Hallihan arrested one McLemore and committed him at the Adams street station for stealing cattle.

—Three mackerels, John Brady, Jim Hyan, and Gun. Scott, were yesterday arrested by Sergeant Atlee, of the Metropolitan Police, charged with highway robbery.

—There were sixteen arrests made, up to 11 o'clock last night, at the Adams street station. Most of them were for trifling offences.

—At midnight Capt. Perry's condition was not so hopeful, and it was feared that he would not last through the night.

—'Squire Kiernan yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Susan Gilden, (colored,) charged with stealing a quantity of clothing from Sarah Wright.

NOTICE.

OFFICE MEMPHIS BOARD OF UNDERWRITERS,
MEMPHIS, June 10, 1868.

We are instructed to reply to the cards of Messrs. Moore & West, and G. W. L. Crook, published in the morning papers, that there may be no misunderstanding between the Board of Underwriters and the general public as to the position assumed by the Board with regard to companies not having the stamina to unite with it in a course, proven by the experience and practice of much older cities, to be conducive and essential to the material interests and protection both of assured and insurers.

The cards of these gentlemen were anticipated, and we now state briefly our reasons for the adoption of that terrible "resolution:"

There are twenty-four Insurance Companies in this Board. They can carry a line of $200,000 on any one risk, and hence it is that uniformity in rates is the reverse of monopoly; while we may add, in support of the equity of our rates, that these outside gentlemen always get them if they can.

We have also extended them every courtesy, given them frequent invitations to co-operate with us, and furnished them with copies of our tariff, adopted after much hard labor, careful surveys, considerable loss of time, and great pecuniary expense.

There is no similar outcry against Life Companies. And why? Because they took advantage of the experience of Fire Companies, and at the start adopted compensating rates. The National Board of Underwriters is now taking the same step, and these gentlemen will soon be invited into that organization—another monopoly. Will they still endeavor to get all the advantages and share none of the expenses and responsibilities?

As to their deposit of about $12,000—how long will it take a little bad luck or bad management to swamp it?

And will they deny that when invited to join the Board, they gave as a reason that "they stood up to the rates, and some of us didn't?" As they deplore monopolies, we ask our citizens to demand of them lower rates than we can afford to work for, and preserve our capital and the security we offer them intact. If they cannot afford it, let them contribute their share of time, "shape and money." If commissions are tempting, instead of an occasional "cut-under," let them adopt a uniform "cut-under," and live—if they can. Or, if we were [redacted] of the way, would they "monopolize?" Oh, no!

We do not dictate to our citizens. We [redacted] ample security for a fair and uniform compensation—such as the disastrous experience of the past five years has demonstrated to be rather under than up to "cost." If these gentlemen [redacted] offer first-class cheap insurance, we [redacted]ise them to secure it and hold on to it long as the security is good.

[redacted]ne of the gentlemen wanted our or[redacted]ization so perfect, that a "fly [redacted]dn't get out of it!" Then he would [redacted]e in. In getting it so, it was perhaps [redacted]fortunate to somebody that the hole [redacted] closed before he got in!

[redacted] will await results, satisfied that [redacted]y can long afford to furnish [redacted]y and maintain its responsibil[redacted]s rates than we are now getting. [redacted]e more that is done of it, the sooner will the companies venturing into these forbidden waters pull down their signs and "come to grief."

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather pleasant and clear.

The river at this point is nearly at a stand, if not quite so.

The Ohio is rising at Cairo but falling above. The latest report from that river at Louisville will be found in our telegraphic columns.

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 9th says: Here the river has receded 20 inches during the 24 hours ending last night, with 15½ feet in the channel by the water-works' mark, and 87 feet under the Covington bridge for passing steamers.

The Mississippi at St. Louis is swelling steadily.

The upper Missouri is rising, as is also the Upper Mississippi.

White river is falling steadily.

A private dispatch from Little Rock reports 26 inches to Fort Smith and 34 inches to the mouth.

Boats in Port.

Celeste, Marble City, Peytona.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The wharf bore a lonely appearance yesterday. The Celeste was the only boat setting up with the wharf. A few stray darkies, a few dray loads of freight, and a few boatmen in ill humor, were all that was to be seen.

The fine steamer Richmond passed up yesterday with a cabin full of people and lots of freight. The Magenta also passed up since our last.

The R. E. Lee, Capt. Cannon, will be at the landing and back out at 9 a.m. to-day for New Orleans and all way points. Mr. Roberts is chief clerk, and is assisted by competent gentlemen.

The U. S. mail packet Celeste, Capt. Reese Pritchard, backs out for the Arkansas to-day, and will make all way landings to Little Rock, going through to Fort Smith if the water permits. In her office will be found agreeable gentlemen.

The Marble City, Capt. Conway, leaves at 6 p.m. to day for Cairo and St. Louis. She is a model packet. Mr. Corbyn is her secretary. The Marble City connects with the Northern Line steamers for all points.

The U. S. mail packet Liberty, Capt. Rice, leaves on Saturday for White river.

The Rubicon passes up on Friday for St. Louis.

The Red wharfboat is now located at Hopefield.

Steamboatmen are preparing to participate in the fishing excursion to Ten Mile Bayou on the Little Rock Railroad. Poles and demijohns are in demand.

The new chairman of the Landing Committee will, we learn, call the attention of the Board to the caving in of the river bank above Jefferson street.

The Silver Moon has laid up at Cincinnati.

The snagboat Abert is on her way to this port from Cairo, pulling roots as she comes.

The Lily was recently sold at St. Louis, by the U. S. Marshal, for $4500. A Mr. Taylor was the purchaser.

The steamer Iowa City struck a snag and sunk at the head of Cordova Island, in the upper Mississippi, on Friday last. No particulars.

The mountain boats are coming down the Missouri in a string.

The Only Chance reached Omaha on the 7th with a cargo of hides and $50,000 in treasure.

The steamer Lansing has been sold at auction, at Dubuque, for $4100. She will be used as a ferryboat at Eagle Point.

"During the month of May three million feet of lumber was received at Dubuque by rafts." A single raft with nearly half that amount will arrive here this morning, from the Alleghany river. It is for the Pavement Company, at work on our streets.

A coal fleet left Pittsburg a day or two ago. The run of coal is a light one, as the break in Dam No. 2 prevents locking barges through at this time.

The Jacob Sass sunk about two weeks ago, at a point about 100 miles above Omaha, has been wrecked, the officers being unable to save her. The boat is worth $10 000, and is insured for $5000 in a Cincinnati company.

The high waters during the past winter served to fill all tributaries of the Mississippi with great abundance of fish. The famous Forked Deer has received her full supply and now affords fine fishing.

The Prescott (Wis) Journal says that there are no fish in the Chippewa river, and account for it thus: "This singular phenomenon was accounted for by the presence of so much sawdust, which, penetrating the eyes of the fish, rendered them blind, and caused them to butt their brains out against snags and like obstructions to navigation."

The Dallas (Texas) Herald reports that $678 25 was paid to Capt. McGarvey—this being the amount raised by voluntary subscriptions as a reward for cleaning out the river and taking his boat to that place.

The New Orleans Times says in its article "on change:" Beef is seldom talked of, though Texas beeves are received by ship and steamboat loads, many thousands going to Kentucky to be fed and fattened for the summer, re shipped back hither next fall and sold for the best of Kentucky raised cattle. There is very little merchandise or general freight going forward to Mobile and Alabama river. Rumor has it that there will not be any corn wanted in Alabama this season. Should there be any deficiency Mobile may obtain a few bushels via the Bayou Manchac sometime during the twentieth century.

The St. Joe Herald of the 5th brings the first intelligence of disaster to steamboat stock by the storm of Wednesday night. It says: "The steamer Emilie, belonging to the St. Joseph and Omaha packet line, moored at the foot of Third street, was an especial object selected by the winds. Both of her smoke stacks were blown off, and everything above the hull—cabin, pilot-house and all—completely leveled and destroyed. So violent was the wind that portions of the boat were blown on shore, and the track of the Council Bluff and St. Joe Road was completely covered with the debris for a distance of many feet. The Emilie was substantially built and handsomely furnished, and the loss to the Packet Company will be very heavy."

SUMMER RESORT.

Madison, Wisconsin,

B. JEFFERSON, : PROPRIETOR.

THIS is a new and thoroughly modern Hotel in every particular. Madison is very justly termed by Bryant, Taylor the Eden City of the West. Situated as it is in the immediate vicinity of four beautiful lakes inland lakes, which abound in the various varieties of fresh water fish, and whose surface is studded with little islands and all reveling, devoted entirely to purposes of pleasure, whose sandy beaches are occasionally interspersed by the mossy boulder, overshadowed by heavy foliage, and from whose clear bosoms are opened the broad prairies for which the West is so noted—the wild game which affords such lively sporting commencement from earliest autumn. Madison is distant 130 miles northwest from Chicago, and can be reached in six hours from Memphis (all rail), and with only two changes of cars (Cairo and Chicago). Its adjacency to Memphis, its wholesome atmosphere, and, above all, the economy recommends it to families in this vicinity. Parties can send their families to remain during the heated term at a fourth less in cost as compared to Saratoga and other eastern resorts. ma12 2m

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by coupling them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 d&wly

THE NATIONAL

COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

$10,000,000,

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 10, 1:15 p.m.—The following cases were disposed of this morning: Coward vs. State, League vs. National Bank, Hughes vs. Shultz, decisions affirmed; Burr vs. Wynne, Ford vs. Larkin, decisions reversed. At the time of adjournment the Court was engaged in the case of Taylor, Cole & Co. vs. Pope, No. 36.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A Washington dispatch states that Senator Wilson received a dispatch from Florida informing him that the Legislature of that State on Tuesday adopted the 13th and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States. The Legislature has adjourned until the 15th inst., when it will reassemble and elect United States Senators.

Gen. Meade will reach Washington on Wednesday, having been summoned to consult with Gen. Grant in regard to the inauguration of State officers in the States of his military district, and upon other military matters connected with his command.

A Washington dispatch states that hosts of whisky men, principally from New York and the West, have arrived, in anticipation of the legislation on the tax bill relating to whisky.

The Shook-Wooley crowd, who are interested in keeping the tax at $2, muster in strong force. They have already begun operations, and the "ring" is in full working order.

Another dispatch says Wooley was not summoned yesterday by the managers. Many Western bankers and brokers were examined with reference to money transactions with Wooley, and important information was obtained.

The Freight Superintendent of the New York Central railway says no arms have been sent toward Oneida for a year.

Frederick Cohn, a German emigrant who, with his family, were bound to Milwaukee, died suddenly on Monday night in a car at the Hudson River Railroad depot.

Late advices from St. Domingo state that Baeze is supposed to have made the same proposition to France and England that he has made to the United States regarding the sale of Samana. He was prosecuting all the eminent men who would not support his administration. Numbers were being sent into exile.

BOSTON, June 10.—A project is on foot here to tender the compliment of a public dinner to Senator Fessenden, for the purpose of indorsing his integrity, independence and purity as a statesman. Gov. Bullock will preside. There will also be present ex-Gov. Washburn, President Hill, of Harvard College, and James Russell, of Lowell.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 10, 1868.

The demand for money is becoming gradually more active, and our banks are daily doing something in the way of discounting on short No. 1 paper.

The Exchange market is quiet. Shipments of currency eastward are required to meet drafts, as there is little or no Exchange making. Rates are nominally the same as yesterday, and are not likely to change for some weeks to come.

Gold opened at 139¾ in New York today, and closed at 139⅞. We quote at 138 to 138¼ buying. Selling at 139½ to 140.

There was more inquiry for Scrip today. An effort is now being made by the large holders—those who belonged to the "rings" to effect an exchange for bonds, and as the Mayor has been at home for some time it is probable that in a very few days a large proportion of the Scrip yet afloat will be turned into interest bearing bonds. Those gentlemen would still be active buyers at 72 to 73c, provided holders would sell. The latter will not listen to anything under 75c, and it is questionable whether any amount could be had at less than 76 to 77c.

County Warrants are growing weaker daily. Brokers buy at about 60c and sell at 62 to 65c as to amount.

Police Scrip is in good supply at 80 to 82c buying. Selling at 84 to 86c to taxpayers, who are the only buyers.

New Tennessee bonds were quoted in New York to-day at 72½c. Old, 73c.

Government bonds quiet, but steady. Coupons of '81, 16¼; do. '62, 12½; do. '64, 8½; do, '65, 10¼.

New Issue of '67, 12½; 10-40s, 5½; 7-30s, 9½.

Large droves of cattle pass through Marshall daily, in the direction of Red river. They come from the exhaustless prairies of Texas. These cattle all look remarkably fine.

The New York Times of the 5th says: "The demand for New Tennessees is especially strong and the whole advanced since early last week. The doubts attempted to be thrown upon the prompt payment of the July interest on these bonds appear to have been wholly dissipated by the presence in the city of the financial agent of the State."

The Liverpool cotton market was quiet at the opening to-day, uplands 11½ to 11⅝d, Orleans 11½ to 11⅝d. At noon prices were irregular. Another dispatch of the same hour quoted the market dull; sales, 5000 bales; uplands 11¼d, Orleans 11⅝d. Shipments from Bombay to the 6th inst., 90,000 bales.

Cotton was flat in New York at the opening with nothing doing and prices nominally unchanged. At noon prices were weak; middlings were offered at 29½c. It closed dull and nominal. Sales, 300 bales.

Our market was inactive with holders anxious to sell but no buyers.
